

The supplier of leading brands

Drawing from over 20 years of commitment to clean and sustainable energy, high quality and an optimum cost to performance ratio is what makes us what we are today: your ideal partner in the photovoltaic industry! As a leading supplier and wholesaler of photovoltaic products and assemblies, we offer you the benefit of our extensive experience at every stage of your project: from sales and advertising support, through advice and service, to the finished system.

Seven good reasons to choose Frankensolar:

Everything from a single source

At Frankensolar you receive everything from just one source: a central contact, a wide range of products, sales and planning support, as well as a reliable and professional after-sales service.

Personal contact point

We want your project to be successful! Our office staff are available to deal with your requests from 7 a.m., and our field specialists and office staff are always on hand to deal with complex technical questions. Honesty and Integrity are key to our operations.

Full range of leading brand-name products

Having worked closely with leading manufacturers in the industry for many years, we are a certified supplier of their products and benefit from first-hand knowledge. Direct purchasing guarantees our supply capability while our Global experience coupled with Local manufacturers ensures your Domestic content compliant solutions are second to none. The rules of the OPA are fully considered, and met while the products themselves must meet our of stringent 3rd party testing so you know its good.

Comprehensive sales and planning support

In order to do as much as possible to ensure your success and ours, we provide you with professional support, from expert advice, onsite support, through sales and marketing assistance, to 3D planning software - We have you covered.

Reliable and fast delivery service

Our flexible logistics service, guaranteeing reliable and fast delivery, provides optimum support for all your projects, supplying even small quantities directly to where the project is taking place.

After-sales service

Even after you have placed your order, we are still there to help! From expert technical support to rapid and uncomplicated replacement of components and dealings with the manufacturer.

Training courses

Our strategic partnerships provide us with first-hand knowledge. We make sure that this know-how and the knowledge gained from 20 years of experience is passed on to you.