

A leading wholesaler of photovoltaic products in Germany, Europe and the Americas.

Since being established in 1990, people and the environment have always been at the heart of Frankensolar's corporate culture. This and the company's technical know-how are the basis for successful and long-term partnerships with our business partners.

The Frankensolar Group has employed 100's of people and has traded in over 28 countries. Our shared values – our philosophy, our confidence in solar energy and our work ethic – bring us together as a team.

Your partner in the photovoltaic market

As your partner in the photovoltaic market, our main goal is to provide you with the best possible support in all that you do. We not only supply products, but offer complete solutions suited to your individual projects and needs. Our services include comprehensive product advice, system design, project management and on-site technical assistance from our field staff. Our goal is to secure, together with you, the long-term success of renewable energy sources.

Business relationships in which you can have confidence

We offer our partners fully tested quality products from renowned manufacturers. We believe in long term business relationships in which you can have confidence. We have been a SMA partner since 1992.
